

Recommended Schedule

This schedule assumes that you'll only be spending a few hours each day working on your résumé. Of course, the modules can be completed at a much faster or slower pace. It is expected that on longer features, such as profile summaries and main bullet points, you'll need extra time to write. If you purchase premium features, this will take additional time. But note that there's plenty of padding to get through this course in 30 days. By limiting your access to the course, I hope to encourage you to hang out with Aristotle as you job hunt, but encourage you not become his BFF or find yourself chillin' with him all cozy-like in the hammock.

Optimized: Don't rush! However, don't take your damn time.
